FOR THE SAKE OF THE GOSPEL

A Consecrated Religious professes 3 vows. Poverty means that all things are held in common with members of the religious community. The vow of Chastity frees the person to embrace everyone as a sister and brother. Discernment with one's superiors is the way Obedience guides the consecrated person to discover how and where to serve God and the Church.

On February 4 & 5, "World Day for Consecrated Life," we pray for sisters, brothers and priests in Religious Congregations or orders. Pray that young people respond to the call of God to become consecrated religious. 47 years ago this week, I entered the Sisters of Notre Dame. It is definitely a life worth living!

(The picture 47 years ago...Yikes! was I really ever that young?)
